

To our wonderful vascular patients,
All of us at Dr. Beckett's office hope this message finds you and your families in good health. During this "stay at home" order, if there is a silver lining, it's the confirmed importance of faith, family and friends. We realize this is an unprecedented time in our country. This pandemic has certainly changed how we all live our lives. While many things have changed, one thing has remained the same, our commitment to your safety.

As we prepare for a loosening of restrictions, we plan to open our schedules back up to see patients on a broader scale. We have missed the usual bustle of patients in our office and look forward to seeing you. We believe our extensive experience with infection control and aseptic technique make us one of the safest places our family of patients can find themselves during this pandemic.

Infection control has always been a top priority for our practice. We exceed all recommendations made by the CDC and OSHA to make sure that our infection control procedures are current to provide a clean and safe office for our patients.

That being said, we would like to make you aware of the additional precautions our practice will be taking to insure we continue to provide the quality vascular/vein care our patients have come to expect in one of the safest environments in the state.

1. Please do not come into the office if you are experiencing: Fever, extended cough, shortness of breath, an unexplained loss of smell and/or taste, or have been exposed to anyone with Covid 19.
2. We ask that only patients and their spouse or caregiver attend office visits at this time.
3. We will be taking the temperature of all patients and staff.
4. We ask that everyone respect the 6-foot social distancing policy when outside of the exam room.
5. We ask that all patients wear a mask or face covering prior to entering and while in the office. If you don't have a mask, please let us know so arrangements can be made.
6. We are offering facetime, zoom or telehealth appointments when possible.
7. If you are a seasonal resident, please call us immediately and we will ensure we get you into the office before you depart.
8. There will also be several in office changes regarding arrival procedures to help insure minimal interactions with others.

It is our fervent hope that we can eventually relax some of the above restrictions soon. Until then, we will all do our best to protect each other from any widespread community transmission of Covid-19. If you have any questions about this notification or your upcoming appointment, please call our office at 772.567.6602.

With love and warm regards,
Dr. Beckett and the Beckett Team
